Michal Markowski is a West London-based artist fascinated by mathematics, chaos, and chance.

His work explores the invisible patterns hidden in randomness. He takes a premium deck of playing cards, shuffles it thoroughly while recording the process to prove the authenticity of the unique outcome, and meticulously hand-assembles every card onto A1 canvas — permanently freezing one unrepeatable moment in time.

Drawing on the immense mathematics of 52! permutations, he creates bold, textured artworks that celebrate both chaos and order. Each piece is completely original and exists in only one version in the entire world.

Inimitable by Design. Unrepeatable by Nature.

52! possible permutations — a number greater than the atoms in the observable universe
